

AG 46

Individualised mobility as cultural resource: harnessing the 'mobile complex' for participatory learning

Ben Bachmair

John Cook

Norbert Pachler

www.londonmobilelearning.net

Individualised mobility as cultural resource: harnessing the 'mobile complex' for participatory learning

*From distinct media to cultural resources in contexts

*Mobile, individualised, convergent mass communication with user-generated contexts and pull programmes

*Increase of individualisation in sociocultural milieus

Contributions by

1. Dr. Norbert Pachler, London: Cultural ecology for learning within the mobile complex Prof. Dr. Claudia de Witt, Dr. Sonja Ganguin, Hagen: work based m-learning
2. Prof. Dr. John Cook, London: user generated contexts;
Lew S. Vygotski
3. Prof. Dr. Gemma Moss, London: Boys' use of cultural resources
4. Prof. Dr. Ben Bachmair, Kassel, Dipl. Päd. Maren Risch, Mainz, Dipl.Päd. Daniel Zils, Ludwigshafen
Mobile phones in school learning; Contexts for development

Discussant to each of the contributions

Prof. Dr. Benjamin Jörissen, Magdeburg + München