

Mobile Learning as a cultural practice in school

Dr. Klaus Rummler & Dr. Björn Maurer

Head of research group Media Education & Dept. CPD Media Education
Zürich University of Teacher Education (PH Zürich)

EERA / ECER 2015, Budapest

Series of studies

- Kick-off meeting with teachers in Sept 2013
- Analysis of Facebook groups „ipad@school“ & „PICTS“ (pedagogical ICT supporters in schools)
- Expert interviews with 8 teachers (1 kiga, 3 primary, 4 sec 1)
- Asking for
 - „What is Mobile Learning“ (no pre-definitions)
 - „What are your approaches, experiences, etc.“

Mobile learning is a cultural practice in schools

Mobile learning takes place!

- Mobile learning needs to fit into schools' overall ICT concepts
- Transition from „Schools online / schools on the net“ to mlearning

Focus

Highlights and challenges

- Added values?
- Mobility?
- Freedom & control? Assessment?

What teachers need. Consequences, structures, dimensions

- Didactical models – scenarios – examples of usage
- App literacy – media education literacy
- Mobile learning for schools as organisations